Forecast for Saturday 23 Apr 2022

Weather: A lot of cloud on Saturday, with a risk of showers, some of which could be heavy and perhaps thundery from late morning through to late afternoon. Some brighter spells possible towards dusk. Strong and gusty northeasterly winds continuing, making it feel chilly at height.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 600m: 20% through the morning, improving to 90% with the majority of summits expected to be clear through the afternoon.

Low cloud and visibility: Extensive cloud with bases 400-600m through the morning, but the main cloud base lifting above the summits by the afternoon. Good visibility beneath the cloud base through the morning, becoming generally good in the afternoon, aside from temporary reductions in any heavier showers.
